Tell the Story—Dreadful Consequences of Impure Blood.

Certainly scrofula, if anything, may be called the advertisement of foul blood.
It is the scourge of the world—offensive, painful, debilitating, stubborn. Outward applications do not cure. Emollients may palliate, they cannot abolish the evil.
There is one sure way out, and that is to eliminate the taint from the blood. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is absolutely without an equal.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofulous humor and impure blood and am now almost entirely cured of the eruptions with which I have been afflicted for the past year. My face, chest and back were badly broken out." FRED B. ORD-WAY, Woodstock, Vt.

GOOD DAY FOR DREYFUS

Renues, August 28.—The balance of the evidence to day, for a change, was in favor of Dreyfus.
Five witnesses were for him and two against him. The most interesting testimony was that of Chief Handwriting Expert Charavay, who had come to declare that he had changed entirely his opinion, which, in 1894, was against, and is now in favor of Dreyfus, who he to-day affirmed was not the author of the bordereau. His candid confession of error was received with murmurs of satisfaction in court, which became discreet applause, in spite of Colonel Jouanest's patent disapproval, when he solemnly added:

"I declare here, on my soul and conscience, that the bordereau was written by Esterhazy."

The most important incident, however, was Colonel Jouanest's acquiescence to Major Carriere's request that a commission be instructed to take Colonel du Paty de Clam's deposition. The inti-mative came purely from the Government commissary, Maitre La-bori and Demange having no faith in such a measure because it allows Du Paty de Clam to escape cross-examination, which is the only thing worth having under the present circumstances. Du Paty de Clam, being a witness for the prosecution, Major Carriere will simply prepare a list of questions which an examining magistrate will put to Du Paty de Clam at his residence, and nobody supposes that the witness will be very much embarrassed by the interrogatories.

To-day the central figure in the court-yard, which is the meeting place for all the leading persons of the trial during the suspension of the sessions, was Captain Freymaeter.

M. de Freycinet, formerly Minister of War, arrived this afternoon and will testify to-morrow.

General Mercier did not seem to be very cheerful to day.

Famous Grapevine Dead.

At the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876, was shown the then largest grape-vine in the world, taken from Santa Barbara, California, an offshoot from the main vine, called the "Daughter," was left to grow; it soon became larger than its "Mother," and produced many tons of grapes each year. This immense single vine, the largest in the world, has of late years been one of the wonders of the Golden State, and has been visited by thousands of tourists.
But now it is dead, killed by a beetle, three inches long which the scientists have named Prionus californicus, because it seems to be a native of the Golden West.
It is not generally known, but there is another grapevine growing within half a dozen miles of the famous one at Carpinteria, which is now unquestionably the largest vine in the world. Its trunk is so large that a good sized man can reach only about half way around it with his arms.

"To Throw Good Money After Bad Will but increase my pain." If you have thrown away money for medicines that did not and could not cure, why should you not now begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the medicine that never disappoints? Thousands of people who were in your condition and took Hood's Sarsaparilla say it was the best investment they ever made, for it brought them health.

indigestion
